

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	x
Abbreviations	xi
Introduction. Protecting Nature in Africa and Asia: Towards a Small-Scale Global History Guillaume Blanc	1
Chapter 1. Laissez-Faire Conservation: Nature Protection in Colonial Vietnam Pamela McElwee	23
Chapter 2. Setting up a Wildlife Department: Kenyan Expertise in Malaya Mathieu Guérin	51
Chapter 3. Imperial Forests and Nature Reserves in Singapore, 1883–1959 Timothy P. Barnard	69
Chapter 4. Rambouillet, Agricultural Stations and French Colonial Africa: Conserving and Improving Nature (1900–1930) Raphaël Devred	91
Chapter 5. Missing Conservation? On the Puzzling Dearth of Nature Conservation in Mandate Syria and Lebanon Diana K. Davis	113
Chapter 6. Between Empire and Development: The Ubiquitous Life and Career of Arthur Hugh Bunting Joseph M. Hodge	140

Chapter 7. The Adamsons, Born Free and the Late Colonial Era: Images That Helped to Change the Animal World William Beinart	159
Chapter 8. Conservation in the Days of Independence: The Case of the Seychelles, 1968–1974 Grégory Quenet	179
Chapter 9. Tracking Wildebeests: The Technological Mediation of Spaces for Humans and Wildlife in the Serengeti since 1950 Simone Schleper	201
Chapter 10. Conserving Nature in Mozambique: Relaying Conservation Practices and Imaginaries since Colonial Days Rozenn Nakanabo Diallo	223
Chapter 11. Catfights and Crocodile Tears: Conflict, Charismatic Species and Nature Professionals in India’s Conservation History Meera Anna Oommen	243
Chapter 12. Representing Space to Structure Time: Tropical Deforestation Fronts in the Light of Human–Territory Relations Johan Oszwald	265
Conclusion. Studying Nature, Networks and Power: What Next? Guillaume Blanc	283
Index	293